In most ases the workers collected the declarations which and file them all together at one time. and sent by mail to the Bureau of Elec-It was impossible yesterday to tell how general the enrolment of voters would be under the new law, but in view of the activity of the political workers there is reason to expect an unusually large enrelment in both the Republican and Democratic parties in the city. General Rodenough, the Superintendent in the Bureau of Elections, said yesterday afternoon that only a few sectorations had been filed, but he expected that they would be filed in large numbers, beginning on Monday and continuing until midnight on Apr Republicans should remember that the new law nakes inoperative all former Republican enrolments, either under the constitution of the County mmittee or under the constitution which was adopted by the Committee of Fifty-three, so far as participation in the party primaries is concerned, and only those Republicans who enroll under the provisions of the new law this spring will be able to take part in the Republican primary The encolment now going on ctions this year. by filing declarations of party affiliation, is confined voters who were registered as voters for the election last fail and still live in their election disricts. Any such voter can enroll in the Republican party by signing and acknowledging before a notary public, and filing, or causing to be filed, with the Bureau of Elections (at its office in the porough in which he resides), at any time between April 15 and 30, inclusive, a statement in the following form:

I.——, do solemnly declare that I reside at No.——st. and am a qualified voter of the at No.——st. and am a qualified voter of the trict in the city of New-York; that I am in general sympathy with the principles of the Republican party; that it is my intention to aupport generally at the next general election, State or National the nominees of such party for State or National offices, and that I have not enrolled with or participated in any primary election or convention of any other party since the first day of last year. The word "party" as used herein means a political organization which at the last preceding election of a Governor polled at least ten thousand votes for Governor. I request that I he specially enrolled in the above-mentioned election district. WHERE DECLARATIONS ARE TO BE FILED.

The offices of the Bureau of Elections in the five boroughs of the city, at which the declarations of incoment are to be filed, are the following:

Borough of Manhattan—No. 300 Mulberry-st.
Borough of Brooklyn—No. 19 Smith-st.
Borough of The Bronx—Solingen Building, One-hundred-and-thirty-eighth-st, and Mott-ave.
Borough of Richmond—Village Hall, Stapleton, Borough of Queens—Police station, Astoria.

The primary election record and party rolls for each borough will be kept at the office of the Bureau of Elections in that borough, where printed blanks and all necessary information can be ob tained by voters.

SUPPLEMENTAL ENROLMENT.

On Tuesday, May 10, there will be, from 7 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock in the evening, a supplemental enrolment in each election district, con-ducted by the official Board of Registry, and, so far as possible, in the same places that were used ast year for registration.

At this special enrolment any Republican who did not enroll in April may become enrolled with his party in the election district where he lives by presenting himself at the place of encolment in that ection district, provided last year he was regisered as a voter anywhere within the limits of the present city of New-York, or provided he has become of age since the last election.

If a voter applies for enrolment in an election istrict other than that in which he registered as a voter, he must present a certificate from the Bu-answer in the affirmative the following questions:

Are you in general sympathy with the principles of the Republican party?

Do you declare that you have not enrolled with or participated in the primary elections or conventions of any other party since the first day of last year? it your intention to support generally at the t general election, State or National, the nom-s of the Republican party for State or National

LIGHT ENROLMENT IN BROOKLYN. COMMISSIONERS OBTAINING SIGNATURES TO BLANKS TO BE FILED LATER.

The Brooklyn Bureau of Elections was ready for the business yesterday of enroling the voters who wish to take part in their party organizations under the new primary law. George L. Weed, of the Twenty-third Ward, formerly an Assemblyman, and now candidate for the Republican nomi. the Twenty-third Ward, formerly an Assemblyman, and now candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress, was the first person to enrol. The second was Commodore David P. Watkins, clerk of the Republican General Committee. The business started in slowly, and by noon only one hundred enrolment blanks had been filed. The hurant kept open throughout the afternoon contrary to its usual custom on Saturdays, to receive the blanks of all who wished to enroll. Many Commissioners of Deeds were working all over the horough throughout the day under the guidance of the Ward and Assembly District committees, securing signatures of party men to the blanks, and when these are filed the number of enrollments will be large.

It is not expected that trouble will follow the blunder in the Twenty-third Ward, by which imperfect blanks were sent out on Thursday and Friday. The election officials have been warned to watch for them.

FEW ENROLLED IN QUEENS

The enrolment in the Borough of Queens was extremely light yesterday, not more than three hundred names, including members of both parties, being placed on the rolls. The election officials ex-plain this by saying that a light enrolment was ex-lected on the first day, but that the total is likely

As the regular Democratic and Republican organizations had not taken any action yet regarding retirent, no interest was taken in the sessions of the Board yesterday. It is estimated that not more than one bundred men of both parties put down their names.

Ex-President Cleveland's letter read as follows:

Westland, Princeton, N. J. A. H. Eastmond, President Brooklyn Democratic Club.

Dear Sir: I have received your letter asking for a word of encouragement and sympathy, to be read at the dinner to be given by the Brooklyn Democratic Club, when, as you say, it will "proclaim anew its faith in the old Democratic principles."

claim anew its faith in the old Democratic practicities.

I am far frem assuming that the repetition of my belief that a strict adherence to those principles in their unadulterated strength and integrity constitutes the best hope for National safety and the only hope for Democratic party success can exert an important influence in present conditions. I am however, so deeply interested in every effort tending toward the restoration of the integrity of our party, and its reinstatement in popular confidence, that I cannot refrain from expressing the hope that the occasion contemplated by your club may usefully contribute to this result.

The Democratic party has a history too grand, a cause too glorious, a mission too exalted, and triumphs too inspiring, to permit in this time of promise and confidence its submergence beneath a new, strange and un-Democratic combination. new, strange and un-Democratic combination

At person applying for enrolment may be chaland reported that Mr. Bryan was sleeping, and would not leave the car until 8 o'clock. The welcoming party and the porters went into the car behind that which Mr. Bryan occupied, and waited for the distinguished silver advocate to awake. At 8 o'clock Mr. Bryan appeared, and was warmly greeted by the committee. He was escorted to the American House, where a suite of rooms had been prepared for him. After an informal char with the Democratic leaders he retired to prepare for the breakfast of the Elmetallic League given in his honor at 3 o'clock.

Mr. Bryan was warmly greeted. After the breakfast was ended Colonel Nickerson made a brief speech and Mr. Bryan was welcomed by E. Moody Boynton. The guest of honor was loudly applauded as he rose to respond.

Mr. Bryan made a brief address, barely touching on the money question, and he was followed by George Fred Williams, of Dedham.

At 12:30 o'clock hundreds of Democratic gathered for a reception to Mr. Bryan at the American House, and shortly after 2 o'clock a luncheon was served.

THE MICHIGAN CENTRAL TRANSFER. PLANS FOR ACQUISITION BY THE NEW YORK CEN of the plan for the acquisition by the New-York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company of the stock of the Michigan Central Railroad Company. This announcement marks another step in the policy recently adopted of effecting a closer unification of the roads of the Vanderbilt system, and securing to the New-York Central the permanent control of its Western connecting lines. The Michigan Central, Including leased and pro-prietary lines, embraces 1,542 miles, and with the Lake Shore will give the New-York Central system an aggregate mileage of 5,716.

Under the plan just announced, the privilege is offered to all Michigan Central stockholders to exchange their stock for bonds of the New-York Central, on the same terms secured by the Vander-bilts and others represented by them, who have holdings of Michigan Central stock. For every share of Michigan Central stock of the par value of $100 there is offered $115 in 3½ per cent 100-year gold bonds of the New-York Central Railroad Company. The total amount of bonds authorized is $21,550,000, and the stock is to be placed in a collateral trust, of which the Guaranty Trust Commature on February 1, 1998, and the interest will be payable semi-annually on February 1 and August 1.

The Guaranty Trust Com-

August 1.

The Guaranty Trust Company will receive deposits of Michigan Central stock on or before June 16, and will issue temporary receipts therefore.

It is understood that the Vanderbilts, who own a majority of the Michigan Central stock, have already deposited their holdings with the trust company. MORE UNION PACIFIC MONEY.

The Government yesterday presented through the Sub-Treasury to the banks holding balances of the Union Pacific purchase money drafts aggregating $556,250, this being the fourth instalment called for within the last two weeks. Each of the instainment has been of the same amount, and two more will probably be paid this week. The Sub-Treasury was debtor to the Clearing House yesterday in only $158,659.
